

Improving Outcomes for Children and Young People in Rathcoole and Monkstown

A 2 Year Action Plan

Introduction

Aim of the Action Plan

S3 Solutions was commissioned by Antrim and Newtownabbey Borough Council (ANBC) in January 2016 to support the Stakeholder Group working to improve outcomes for children and young people in Rathcoole and Monkstown to develop a two year action plan for the period 1st April 2016 – 31st March 2018. The terms of reference outlined that the action plan was to be outcomes based and reflective of the Outcomes Based Accountability Approach (OBA). Resources to complete the assignment have been provided by ANBC and the Public Health Agency (PHA).

As required, this plan has been informed and shaped by the following:

- Feedback and input from Newtownabbey Family Connections, local schools, the local community and other stakeholders
- Analysis of current statistics and strategies relating to Educational Attainment in the Rathcoole and Monkstown area

The aim of this process is to produce an action plan that:

- Focusses on outcomes to be achieved to address educational underachievement in Rathcoole and Monkstown
- Provides a framework for planning and performance management

Context

Rathcoole and Monkstown are two urban estate areas based in the Antrim and Newtownabbey Borough Council area. Both areas are defined amongst the most deprived within Northern Ireland (NI) in relation to deprivation and disadvantage. As a result the areas experience a range of socio – economic and generational issues in relation to disadvantage. Rathcoole is identified as a Neighbourhood Renewal Area while Monkstown is recognised as an 'Area at Risk'. Educational underachievement is a significant issue and challenge within both areas as a result of a range of different factors including the levels of deprivation and disadvantage noted.

Since 2009 Barnardo's has delivered Newtownabbey Family Connections, an integrated model of work with children and families in clusters of local schools in Rathcoole to improve educational achievement. Initially a Steering Group was established from within the Rathcoole Neighbourhood Renewal Partnership Education Sub Group, with local principals and key community stakeholders represented. Since April 2015 this Steering Group has undertaken a series of meetings and engagements with community, voluntary, statutory agencies, politicians and local churches and has evolved into a Stakeholder Group to tackle educational underachievement. As a result of the merger of the two local secondary schools to create Abbey Community College, the geographical remit of the work of the Stakeholder Group was expanded to include both Rathcoole and Monkstown. The Stakeholder Group also engaged with local residents and worked closely with the Fair Chance Project Educational Impact Group, a group of local residents interested in improving education in the area.

It is in this context that the work of the Stakeholder Group has been progressed. Initial visioning sessions were completed in April 2015, November 2015 and January 2016 to identify priority areas to be addressed and potential initiatives that could be brought forward to tackle issues relating to educational underachievement in the area.

Representation on the Stakeholder Group is detailed below:

Statutory Representation	Political Representation	Schools
Antrim and Newtownabbey Borough Council Education Authority for Northern Ireland Public Health Agency Northern Health and Social Care Trust	Cllr Paul Hamill (DUP) Cllr Billy Webb (ALL)	Abbey Community College Rathcoole Primary School Abbots Cross Primary School Whitehouse Primary School Hollybank Primary School

Strategic Assessment

A strategic assessment was completed to support the development of the action plan, consisting of the following information:

Consultation Framework

The consultation framework for this action plan was developed in line with the terms of reference for the assignment and following initial meetings with Stakeholder Group representatives.

The consultation framework implemented in the development of the action plan sought to maximise input from local residents (parents and families), community organisations, statutory agencies, elected representatives and local schools in the area (Principal input from each school). Consultation activities, which took place in January and February 2016 comprised of the following:

- 1 x initial meeting with the Stakeholder Group
- Design and distribution of a community questionnaire – a total of 324 responses were received for the community questionnaire
- 27 x structured interviews with relevant stakeholders, including community organisations, elected representatives, council officers, statutory agency representatives and principals of local schools
- 3 x focus groups conducted with local parents

Desk Review

The consultation process was augmented by a desk review that included analysis of the strategic relevance of the work of the Stakeholder Group as well as a review of available and relevant statistics including:

Action Planning

S3 Solutions facilitated one strategic planning session with Stakeholder Group members in March 2016. The planning session focused on analysing consultation data, reviewing available information and using this to establish high level outcomes to work towards through the implementation of the action plan and delivery of programmes

Summary of Consultation Feedback

A brief summary of each stage of the consultation process has been provided below (please refer to full document for a more detailed breakdown):

Community Consultation

- The key issues impacting on educational achievement within Rathcoole and Monkstown were identified as 1) Lack of motivation / aspirations 2) Family / home life issues 3) Lack of positive role models 4) Need for greater support for parents
- 95.2% of respondents felt that the four priority theme areas of Raising Aspirations; Improving Attainment; Collaboration and Early Intervention are relevant and appropriate in order to address educational underachievement
- Of the current support available, 42.0% of respondents had participated in parent support programmes while 41% had participated in Adult Education. Of those that had participated only 38.7% felt that parenting programmes were beneficial while 21.8% felt that Adult Education was beneficial to them
- 25.5% of respondents felt that they didn't gain any benefits by participating in the support programmes / activities currently on offer.
- Of the benefits gained, improved self-confidence and self-esteem was most popular (46.1%) while a further 44.6% indicated that they felt better prepared to support their child/ren as a result of participation.
- 54.6% of respondents children / young people had participated in Breakfast Clubs which was the most popular programme identified for them
- 28.0% of respondents were not aware of or had participated in any of the support programmes / activities available to them
- For those that were aware of or had young people participating in activities / programmes, 31.7% felt that no benefits had been gained by children / young people. Breakfast Clubs and; Literacy and Numeracy Programmes were the most beneficial of those listed.
- Respondents highlighted that the greatest benefits for young people taking part in support programmes were improved confidence and self-esteem; and improved school performance

Stakeholder Consultation

- The key issues impacting on educational achievement as identified by stakeholders are:
 - Low level aspirations and generational underachievement of families in the local areas
 - Lack of engagement in and value placed on the education of children by parents (need to change perceptions and attitudes towards education)
 - A need to ensure that parents (particularly those most at risk) to access the relevant parent / family support programmes
- Stakeholder groups agreed that the 4 identified themes of Raising Aspirations; Improving Attainment; Early Intervention and Collaboration are all vitally important to address educational underachievement within Rathcoole and Monkstown
- Raising Aspirations and Early Intervention were identified as the 2 most important themes within the overall process across the 3 stakeholder groups
- A robust marketing and publicity campaign should be explored using as many different methods as possible to help raise awareness of the intent to address educational underachievement within Rathcoole and Monkstown
- Programmes and initiatives identified to impact on educational underachievement were varied in nature but the most prominent activities included dedicated breakfast / homework clubs (responsibility of schools and/or community organisations), parent / family support programmes, additional counselling provision within schools, community based initiatives delivered during school holiday, greater early intervention provision, programmes that engage parents and children together within a learning environment, more vocational type opportunities / qualifications in and out of school.

Parent focus group consultation

- The attitudes and commitment of parents is critical to the educational development and achievement of their children (current attitudes towards education are poor).
- Parents own lack of confidence and educational achievement is reflected by their children
- Parents need to be supported to effectively support their children's own education
- Parents would like to participate in more programmes / initiatives alongside their children where they can learn and work together
- Adult education programmes should be more accessible and readily available
- Delivery of vocational type classes for children within schools should be prioritised
- Issues such as bullying, mental health and low self-esteem have a negative impact on children's school experience (greater counselling provision within schools required)
- Schools should be accessible for community use during the evenings to deliver more initiatives / programmes
- School holiday schemes delivered by community based organisations would help to keep young people involved in positive activities
- Improved links between schools and sports clubs / community groups to refer children to

Strategic Priorities and Outcomes

Priorities and outcomes were developed through a facilitated process, with the Stakeholder Group identifying priorities as a result of ongoing meetings over a period of 18 months and outcomes under each priority then agreed post the community and stakeholder consultation process which included feedback from local people and organisations reflective of the local community.

The strategic priorities and outcomes agreed by the Stakeholder Group inform the key focus for action over the lifetime of the plan and beyond, with resources and programmes prioritised based upon their ability to impact upon the priorities and outcomes.

Strategic Priority	Outcomes to be Achieved
Raising Aspirations	Schools are accessible, valued and safe places for children and parents
	Parents have greater understanding of the value of education to their child and are more engaged in their child's education
	Children and young people have higher levels of belief regarding what they can achieve and how they can achieve their potential

Strategic Priority	Outcomes to be Achieved
Attainment	Children and young people are supported to reach their learning potential at all stages of their education
	Parents recognise the contribution of learning to health, well being and personal attainment and feel they have increased access to learning opportunities
	Improved attendance levels and engagement of children and parents within education

Strategic Priority	Outcomes to be Achieved
Collaboration	Enhanced levels of buy in and focus from all key stakeholders to create a culture of sharing resources and expertise
	Increased level of engagement between communities, schools and other stakeholders
	Increased and enhanced communication between nursery, primary and secondary schools to improve transition process and experience for children and young people

Strategic Priority	Outcomes to be Achieved
Early Intervention	Ensuring that all children in preschool / nursery are fully prepared for school life
	Improved access to services for vulnerable children and young people to enable intervention at an early age or stage
	Improving resilience and emotional wellbeing of parents, children and teachers

Summary and Next Steps

This action plan has been developed by stakeholders involved to improve outcomes for children and young people in Rathcoole and Monkstown and to address educational underachievement within these communities. The action plan is the result of an extensive engagement process with local community, political, youth provider, schools and statutory agency representatives along with broad input from the local community through consultation exercises.

This summary document clearly articulates:

- The rationale and community context for a multi agency and stakeholder approach to address educational underachievement in the area
- The needs and priorities relating to education identified by local residents and key stakeholders working in the area
- Outcomes and positive impacts that stakeholders collectively would like to realise for children, young people and families within the Rathcoole and Monkstown areas
- Practical actions to be delivered in order to progress initiatives and programmes that can deliver a positive impact
- The structure and resources required to deliver the action plan over a 2 year period along with clear timescale for delivery and performance management

The next steps in the process relate directly to the actions outlined within the Action Plan section of the document. In the first 6 – 12 months of the action plan, securing resources is a priority for the Stakeholder Group and all available avenue of investment are to be explored to resource the programmes of work identified based on local community needs.
